

The sergeant at arms being killed by the rebels (p. 239).

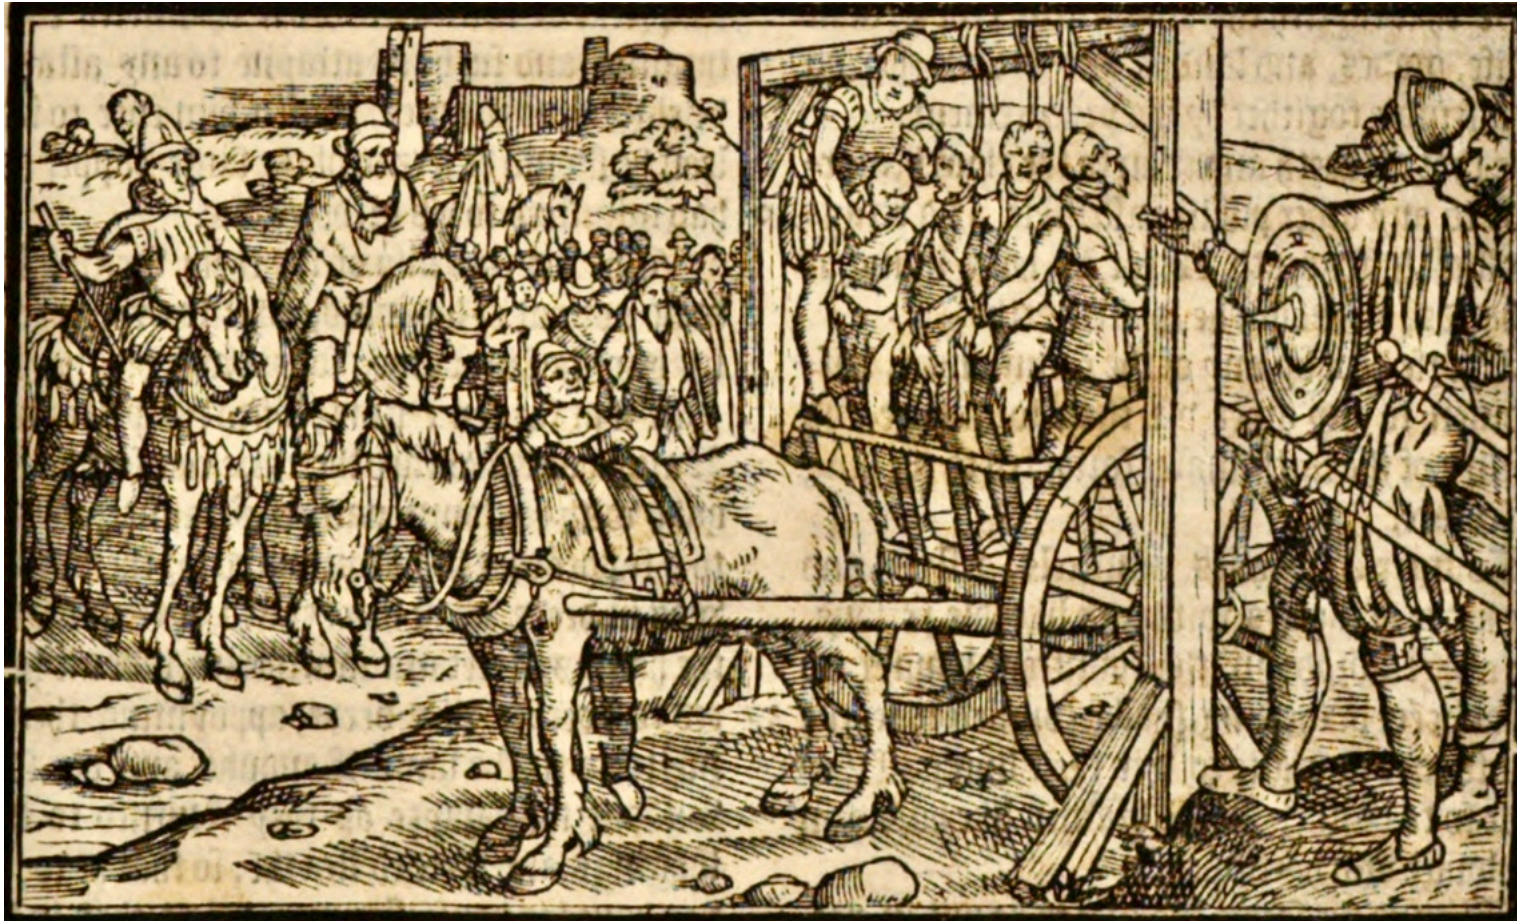

Makdowald committing suicide (p. 240).

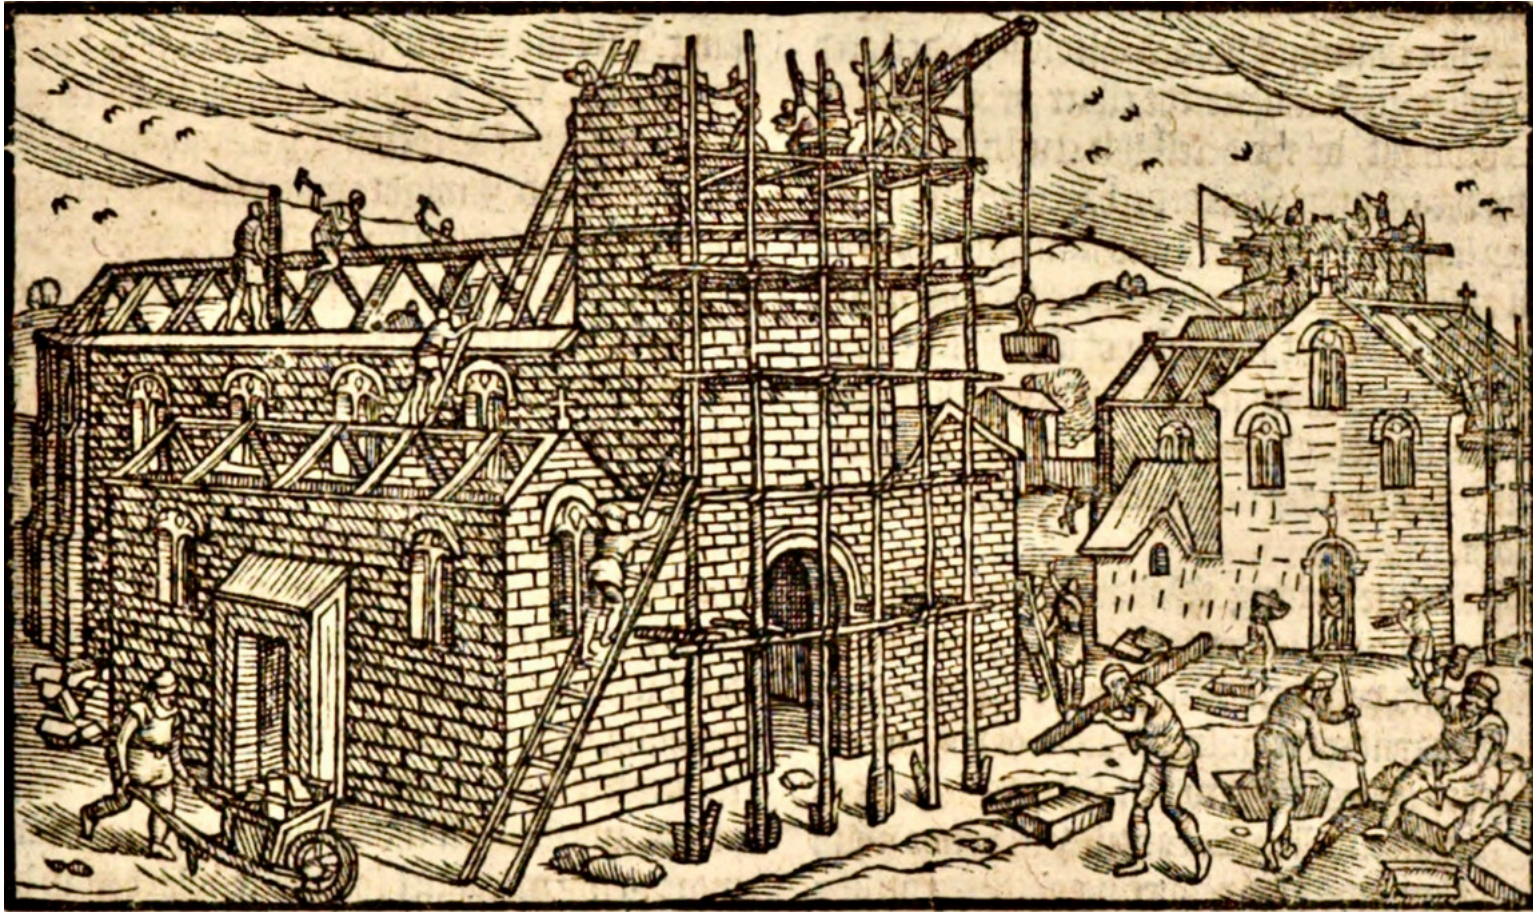

Macbeth and Banquo encountering the Weird Sisters (p. 243).

The coronation of Macbeth (p. 244). The same block is used for Malcolm's coronation (p. 252) and in four other places (pp. 138, 153, 223, 311).

Law and order restored at the beginning of Macbeth's reign (p. 245). The same block is used in four other places (pp. 156, 198, 331, 379).

The construction of Dunsinane Castle (p. 249). The same block is used in three other places (pp. 271, 288, 429), where the building represented is, more convincingly, a church.